Alma Hancock Rotary President

Alma Hancock, well known in this community as a business man has recently been elected president of the Raymond Rotary Club, succeeding retiring president Art King. Those elected to serve office with Mr. Hancock were Shirley W. King, Vice president and Lincoln Wood secretary.

The club have an ambitious program on the line and intend to start and institute a community chest with the town officials introducing the measure. They will work hard to put Raymond on the map by more road signs leading to the town and with greater publicity.

The Rotary Club members are full of enthusiasm and are all prepared to put a lot of effort into their many projects and support of all community enterprises.

Track Meet On Saturday

Raymond's Annual Track and Field Meet is scheduled to get under way this coming Saturday morning. A glowing display of the trophies (over 50) is now on display in the show window of the Mercantile.

There are trophies for every event and aggregate trophies for every class except some senior classes.

Entries have been coming in good and a fine representation of athletes from all over the province is expected to be in attendance.

Plan to see this outstanding meet and see your own boys and girls in action. This meet if supported by all will be one of the biggest meets in the province and will grow better and bigger as the years pass.

Drop over to the park on Saturday and add your support and back the young people in their sport activities.

Craddock Welling Link Certain

The much hoped for and long wanted highway link between Craddock and Welling looks as if it will be a sure thing in the near future.

A delegation was recently in Edmonton on the business of the road and we take pleasure in publishing a letter received by Mr. E.M. Kilde of Raymond on this subject.

Re Raymond Delegation

Dear Sir:

Replying to your letter of the 27th ult. re above, would say the delegation is correct in their report to you as to our promise that the Craddock - Welling road would be reconditioned and gravelled this year and while surfacing was discussed, there was no commitment made as to when this would be done, but naturally as soon as possible, having regard to all the factors that must be taken into consideration. However, I am sure your members realize that any promise given as regards road construction cannot be construed as had faith if not carried out as soon as we all would like, as that very unpredictable thing, the weather, is usually the governing factor and it is not only the weather in the district wherein the construction is to take place, but also the weather condition where the equipment is working at the present time. The reports I have received from that part of the province are that owing to heavy rains, our equipment is working a very small part of the time, consequently, delay on one project just naturally delays commencement of another.

We sincerely trust weather conditions will greatly improve in the near future and if we are fortunate enough to have a nice fall, much of the delay that is now such a problem, may be overcome and all the construction hoped for this year will be an accomplished fact.

Wishing your association every success, I am,

Yours very truly,

D.B. MacMillan,

Minister of Public Works.

This road will put Raymond on a good highway with hard surface facilities close at hand. A road of this nature will mean a great deal to this community in improved transportation both in and out in all kinds of weather.

In an old "Raymond Chronicle" of 1905 edited by Brigham S. Young, we find the following:

KING BROTHERS

This is one of the most enterprising firms in Raymond. Established in 1902, the members of the firm are Thomas O. King Jr., and Louis O. King. Their store 50 by 52 feet is splendidly fitted in the interior and they carry full lines of all classes of general merchandise and dry goods.

Starting with the manager and clerk, the employees now number eight in the short space of little over three years business. The fittings and selection of dry goods compare with anything in the province.

Both Mr. L.D. King and T.O. King have been members of the town council while the latter is now chairman of the school board. Recently Mr. L.D. was elected on the council of the Board of Trade by a large vote. Both of the head of this firm own large farms and their interests in the country are constantly increasing. One of the factors which has made their business a success is the policy of seeking to satisfy the purchaser with a quality of goods that are known to be of the highest quality.

T. O. KING—Member of Raymond's First Town Council.

Born December 6, 1869 in Salt Lake City, Thomas O. King Jr. was the first born of Thomas O. and Dorcas D. King, early Utah pioneers who crossed the plains in 1853.

While still a youth T. O. King Sr. was employed by the Young Express Co. in carrying mail and express across the plains, also performing military duty at Fort Supply, Green River, as well as later in Carson Valley, Nevada and as Pony Express rider. He carried the mail from Fort Bridger to Weber in Utah and later from Salt Lake to Bear Lake. He was an Indian war veteran and had numerous thrilling experiences and narrow escapes. He, with his family moved to Idaho in the early '70's and in 1880 moved to Almo where he was bishop for 20 years.

King brothers, like their father pioneered in a new land. Thomas Owen Jr. came to Canada in 1892 and homesteaded in the Cardston district on the St. Mary River where he engaged in ranching. In 1897 he helped organize the first school district south of McLeod and Lethbridge and served as a trustee until 1903 when he moved to Raymond, here he engaged in the mercantile business until 1903 when he returned to farming.

He was truly a pioneer in the educational program of Alberta and took a keen interest in the education of the rural child. In 1908 Mr. King was elected school trustee and served in that capacity until 1937 when he refused further election.

In 1909 he was elected first vice-president of the Alberta Association and held that position until 1923 when he became president and continued in that capacity until 1937. He was one of Raymond's first town councilmen from 1903 to 1906 and during the absence of Raymond's Mayor Chas. McCarthy, he was appointed acting mayor.

T. O. King was a friend to every one and everyone was his friend. His wife Margaret H. King has always been very active in church and community affairs serving as president of the Relief Society organization for 39 years. Perhaps no other single individual has surpassed her efforts in caring for the sick and those in need. Her hands seemed to be constantly busy sewing, knitting, patching and carrying food, clothing and medicine to the needy in all kinds of weather.

Her husband T. O. King was also well known for his kindness, thoughtfulness and service to the sick and unfortunate.

Four of the King family were called to labor in the British Isles as missionaries. In the early '60's T. O. King Sr. spent four years, T. O. King Jr. left Raymond in 1907 for England where he spent 27 months and soon after his return his younger brother H. E. (Ted) King was called from Raymond. A few years later M. T. King, who has taught in the High School for many years and who was a member of the Taylor State Presidency for a number of years, was also called on a long term mission to England.

Mr. and Mrs. King celebrated their golden wedding in September of 1940 when all their children were present: M. T. King, Mrs. Wilford Heninger, Mrs. D. B. Fowler, Lethbridge, Miss Sarah King, Vancouver. Owen King, Raymond, Mrs. P. M. Hall, Vancouver and Miss King, Raymond. A baby Dorcas died in infancy.

Thomas O. King passed away June 11, 1946. One of the speakers at the funeral said this of him:

"Our farm was near the King farm and we passed it many a time. His head lands were always clean his furrows straight and we watched his industry and thrift in pattern after him.

In religion his head lands were clean and straight. His call was unforgotten, his course was set and he knew exactly where he was going.

A suggestion has been made in the House of Commons by an MP that the Government should reduce from 3 years to 6 months the period which a newly arrived family must wait before they are entitled to the "Baby Bonus" or family allowance in Canada.

While many civil servants here in certain departments do not particularly like the personnel questionnaire which they must now fill out it is emphasized that this is essential for security reasons and a proper safeguarding of state secrets.

There has been a wave of insurance news lately including Senate approval of Bill allowing insurance companies to engage in housing projects backed by government guarantee, approval by the House of Commons of a bill to amend the Veterans Insurance Act extending period for application for such insurance from 3 to 6 years after the war and extending coverage to permanent force members and merchant seamen who got the wartime bonus and a proposal by an MP to create an insurance fund for the benefit of patients who suffer through faulty diagnosis by the medical profession.

Though a federal labor code provision to make union dues checkoff mandatory on employers was voted down in the House of Commons, there are still whispers of discontent heard on Parliament Hill against this decision by those favoring the labor viewpoint.

The reason pipe is scarce in Canada is that this country depends on the U.S. for steel which is used in the manufacture of pipe and "it will be sometime before pipe is plentiful again" according to an expert here.

WITHOUT FEAR OR FAVOR

Behind the developments now along Parliament Hill following in the wake of the report of the special Prices Committee of the House of Commons is the all-important statement that prices of many everyday needs are still rising that they are now at the highest level in history and that this is causing it to be increasingly difficult for many common people across Canada to provide themselves with even the necessities of life for a decent standard of living, though it is entirely wrong to connect specifically the current price conditions with the Committee operations.

It must be understood that the government here established this Prices Committee principally and basically as a fact-finding body and to propose courses of action to prevent abuses and to suggest remedies. It was not in itself empowered to check present inflationary tendencies or to proceed in direct legal actions against profiteers hoarders etc. However, after 77 public sittings, listening to 130 witnesses and filling 155 exhibits, it is evident that its activities did have such a salutary effect by its widespread publicity and power that backstage in this capital it is now understood its recommendations may be carried into official action by the Government including a commission to continue the inquiry into prices or costs to be financed by a $60,000 appropriation for this purpose mentioned in the dying days of the session in the supplementary estimates of Finance Minister Abbott. It is also understood that other recommendations of the committee may be considered for action by the government.

Indeed, there is strong emphasis here in the statement "the committee is of the opinion that the very fact that it existed and that it had the power to subpoena witnesses to give an accounting of their business has had a salutary restraining effect on unjustifiable price increases. This, it is said here is borne out by the evidence of representative witnesses.

In addition, the chairman of the committee, Hon. Paul Martin has stressed, too, the salutary effects of the committee's work, comprising evidence by the trades, Chairman of the wartime Prices and Trade Board Governor of the Bank of Canada, head of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, Commissioner of Combines Investigation Act, and other top officials. Mr. Martin mentioned that Mrs. Marshall, head of the Canadian Association of Consumers, said "she looked upon this committee as that indeed so did the committee and members of her organization, as a fact-finding body independent of that purpose, have a salutary effect". He stated "that one gentleman who has a series of stores in the city of Montreal announced to the Committee that, because of its request, and because of the disclosure of his profit and loss figures, he proposed to reduce the cost of bread. "He also pointed out that another witness declared with regard to textile goods "that if the committee were not sitting he would raise the prices of some of the articles manufactured by his company."

"An so one could go on to indicate that there were some salutary effects which emanated from the kind of information disclosed and the realization that corporations and others would be brought before the committee to give an account of the price situation as it applied to their particular business." Mr. Martin stated adding that basically and significantly the rise in the cost of living in Canada can be attributed to the upswing in external prices with our own economic interdependence with other countries, especially the United States to the higher costs of production, to the expansion of purchasing power compared with goods and services available, and several other factors.

Consequently, it is understood here along Parliament Hill that certain specific measures arising out of this all-important Prices Committee investigation, findings and proposals will be considered carefully and promptly by the Government in the light of prevailing conditions of still rising costs or prices in some directions. This means as interpreted "on the spot" in Ottawa, that these recommendations by the Prices Committee will be translated into actual steps by the Government either directly to bring a reduction in prices where this will be possible or to put into play forces of informed public opinion to produce such desirable results, particularly where the necessities of life are concerned.

NEW PLAN FOR MOVIES

Trade Minister Howe told the Canadian Parliament "that a comprehensive plan has been studied and partly agreed upon" when asked about the Canadian Government's deal with American movie industry to conserve U.S. exchange, hinting at the same time "Canada's getting good value for the exchange privileges being allowed the industry in this country."

INSISTS ON EXAMINATION

Canada now insists on the X-ray examination of all immigrants coming to this country it has been made known here and it is aimed thereby to keep out of the country those who might be a danger to public health preventing a recurrence of cases such as arose when Polish soldiers were brought here and found to be infected with tuberculosis a few months after their arrival in this country.

Recent Marriage

Ceremonies

DAHL—HEAD

A wedding of interest to Raymond and southern Alberta residents took place June 25th when in an evening ceremony in the Salt Lake Temple Mark Dahl, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronda P. Dahl of Raymond, took as his bride Helen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nephi L. Head of Midvale, Utah, formerly of Cardston.

Following the ceremony an informal reception was held at the home of the groom's sister Mrs. Herman Zobrist. The groom's mother Mrs. Ronda Dahl attended the wedding from Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. Dahl will spend their honeymoon in California and New Mexico and expect to be at home in Edmonton in September when the groom will continue his medical studies at the University of Alberta. Mrs. Dahl received her Bachelor of Science B.S. degree from the University of Alberta where she was a member of Kappa Alpha Theta. Mark served in the air force for five years.

KITCHEN—COOPER

A pretty church wedding was solemnized Monday evening June 25th when Bishop J. O. Hicken united in marriage Helen, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reg Cooper and J. Lloyd Kitchen, only son of Mr. and Mrs. L. Kitchen of Raymond in a double ring ceremony.

Entering on the arm of her father, the bride was dressed in white shimmer satin with finger tip veil falling from a heart shaped coronet. Her bouquet was of pink and yellow roses. Mrs. Hazel Paxman attended her sister and chose for the occasion a formal gown of lavender frosted nylon with white halo hat and a corsage of pink carnations. Charming little attendants were the Misses Marie Nilsson and Peggy Heninger in gowns of pink and blue with matching hair bands. Each carried a rose in which the wedding had been placed. Ralph Walker, brother-in-law of the groom acted as best man.

Mrs. Cooper chose for the occasion a gown of lavender figured crepe with rose corsage while Mrs. Kitchen was in green figured crepe with beige straw hat and a corsage of gardenias. The ceremony was performed in the Relief Society rooms which were decorated with profusions of lovely summer flowers and tall lighted tapers, and was attended by nearly a hundred relatives and close friends.

During the signing of the register Miss Geraldine Court sang "O Promise Me" accompanied by Lena Wing.

A reception was held later when two hundred and fifty guests congratulated the young couple who were assisted in receiving by their parents.

Greeting the guests as they entered were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kenny and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fairbanks. Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Bridge invited to the luncheon room where guests were served by girl friends of the bride in pretty pastel gowns. Mona and Dona Almer, Lois Almer and Beth Follis.

Miss Erna Alfred was in charge of the guest book. Mesdames Martha Taylor and Elsie Mitchell were in charge of the many useful and beautiful gifts on display.

For the short, enjoyable program Melvin Klug acted as Master of Ceremonies. Songs were rendered by Mrs. Beatrice Bennett of Cardston singing "I Love You Truly" and "Because"; Joseph McLean singing "O Promise Me"; a reading "A Mother's Prayer" by Mrs. Edda Brandley and a quartette by the 1st Ward Bishopric J. O. Hicken, Dr. Harris Walker, Murray Holt and Godfrey Holmes.

For the honeymoon by car to Banff the bride changed to a powder blue suit with white accessories and rose corsage. Mr. and Mrs. Kitchen will make their home in Picture Butte where the groom is employed as an electrician by Canadian Sugar factories.

Among the out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Victor Miller, Lethbridge; Mrs. R. E. Lewis, Haney B.C.; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Moreland, Mr. and Mrs. Wm Cooper and daughter, Mrs. Fern Earl, Salt Lake, and Carol of Cardston; Mrs. Phoebe Spencer, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Cooper, Mrs. Marjorie Cooper, Mrs. Bill Sloan, Mrs. Beatrice Bennett, Miss Ruth Smith of Cardston and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Gibb of Picture Butte.
